

It's been more than 17 years since I stumbled across the broadcast. Having found freedom from performance-based Christian living, I continue to share this message of freedom in Christ with others!

A few hours ago, I had a wonderful discussion with some friends who are getting together with me to discuss the contents of Classic Christianity. I also have two beautiful teenage daughters who are growing in grace, and little by little, learning the truth of our identity in Jesus Christ! This message isn't very popular in Minnesota, but my family and friends enjoy your wonderful insights ... and I hope they are allowing Jesus to open their eyes to a clearer understanding of God's grace.

Jeff, Minnesota